Education Services –Teachers used the two-week shutdown to map the curriculum from now to the end of the year into weekly units of study. Those are packaged into family sets by week.

- 04/06/2020 is the first week of off-site instruction so Week 1 materials were delivered to all in-district students and materials are also provided for pick-up for all students attending from out-of-district.
- On Friday, 04/10/2020, materials for Week 2 will be delivered and will follow the schedule attached as long as needed through continued school closure.
- Teachers call at the beginning of each week, and once mid-week to check on how students are doing and to support parents in off-site instruction.
- All classrooms have a digital extension to support or extend learning found on the staff page of Dixon's website. (Any homes with technology issues, all of these activities are a supplement to the at-home materials.)
- Students also have access to all Dixon's subscription/non-subscription sites on the website under the "Sites for Students" tab.
- Dixon is not asking for any materials to come back in to school. Instead, they are encouraging participation and engagement by having a weekly raffle. Early in the week the school will post the weekly challenge for families to add a comment with a picture of their child working on activities and/or a quote about something their child is learning. Every family who contributes is add to the weekly Friday raffle where two names will be drawn.
